The act of increase entails a perpetual annual charge of $900,000 on the Treasury. This is exactly five per cent on $18,000,-000, and that is the rate at which the bonds, stolen the proceeds and left the people to pay the interest on them. This may seem a strained view of the case, but it is perfectly plain that the $900,000 extra cost that has been added to the annual sittings of Congress would pay the interest on $18,000,000 of the consolidated debt. The annual addition to the President's salary would pay the interest on a half lion of that debt.
